

North Country Hospital

Where caring runs deep.

ANNUAL REPORT
2025

THE YESTERDAY TODAY TOMORROW

We honor our history,
embrace today's opportunities,
and look ahead with purpose - continuing our commitment to the people, families, and communities who make this place home.

OUR PRESIDENT & CEO SHARES THIS YEAR'S REFLECTIONS

To our patients, families, staff, partners, and community,

As we reflect on the past year at North Country Hospital, one theme continues to guide every decision we make: our commitment to providing exceptional care close to home. Whether it was through upgrading technology, recruiting talented providers, or strengthening community partnerships, we remained focused on delivering high-quality healthcare for the Northeast Kingdom.

Like many hospitals, we faced challenges this year, including a legal matter involving our electronic medical record system - pursued only after careful review and always with our patients, staff, and community in mind. At the same time, ongoing regulatory and financial pressures at the state level continue to create significant challenges for rural hospitals like North Country Hospital, constraining growth and limiting the pace at which services can expand. One thing for sure is that throughout these challenges, the care you receive here has remained safe, reliable, and uninterrupted.

Even amidst challenges, there is much to celebrate. We welcomed new and returning providers to our organization and continued to invest in our facilities and technology, strengthening our position for the future. Most importantly, our dedicated caregivers demonstrated day after day what it means to live our mission: Always Here, Always Caring.

To every staff member, volunteer, trustee, donor, and community member who supports North Country Hospital, thank you. Your trust fuels our work and strengthens our resolve to remain the region's healthcare home, now and for generations to come.

With gratitude,

NCH Auxiliary

2025 was a busy and impactful year for the Hospital Auxiliary. They hosted their first-ever Wish Upon a Star Vendor & Family Fair, raising funds for department “wish list” items outside the capital budget. Thanks to their efforts, the Auxiliary purchased a bilirubin meter for NC Pediatrics, holiday baby caps and mittens, new laboratory waiting room furniture, and a replacement crash cart for Maternal Child Health. More waiting room updates are on the way.

The Auxiliary gives all year long but is especially appreciated during the holidays for lobby decorating, stuffed toys for young patients, and mitten, hat, and scarf trees placed around campus. They also support monthly nursing care leadership collections and faithfully staff the ever-popular coffee cart each week.

Decades of Dedication. Countless Moments of Impact.

This year, North Country Hospital proudly turned up the neon and flashback fun with our 1980s-themed Annual Awards Banquet! We celebrated employees reaching milestone anniversaries and honored the dedication, loyalty, and totally awesome commitment of team members who have devoted years—sometimes decades—to caring for our community. From five years to forty and beyond, we recognized the rockstars whose service continues to power the spirit, strength, and success of North Country Hospital.

Investing in Technology That Matters

Three New Additions Strengthening Care at North Country Hospital

At North Country Hospital, innovation and compassion go hand in hand. Every investment we make in new technology has one goal, to provide the people of the Northeast Kingdom with the very best care, close to home. This year, the Imaging Department proudly introduced three state-of-the-art systems that are already transforming the patient experience and improving diagnostic precision: the Genius 3D Dimensions Mammography System, an enlarged Signa MRI, and a GE Logic Ultrasound unit. “These upgrades aren’t just about machines,” says Dr. Steven Rinehouse, Radiologist at North Country Hospital. “They’re about giving our patients access to the same technology you’d find in major medical centers, right here in our community. When we can offer earlier detection, greater comfort, and faster results, everyone benefits.”

At North Country Hospital, we believe that the best care is local care—made stronger through innovation, compassion, and a commitment to the future of health in the Northeast Kingdom.

Genius 3D Dimensions Mammography: Seeing the Smallest Details

When it comes to breast health, early detection makes all the difference. The new Genius 3D Dimensions Mammography System offers a revolutionary way to detect cancer earlier and more accurately. By capturing multiple images of the breast from various angles, it creates a highly detailed three-dimensional picture that helps radiologists see beyond overlapping tissue.

“3D mammography has changed the way we detect breast cancer,” explains Dr. Rinehouse. “It allows us to find cancers that might be hidden in traditional 2D images and reduces unnecessary callbacks for additional views. That means less anxiety for patients and more confidence in their results.”

This system also features a more comfortable, curved compression surface for some patients, one designed to reduce discomfort during screening. It’s a small change that makes a big difference, especially for women who might otherwise delay their annual mammogram.

Enlarged Signa Artist MRI: Comfort Meets Clarity

North Country Hospital’s newly enlarged Signa Artist MRI suite is another step forward in patient-centered imaging. The larger bore opening and improved design provide a more comfortable, less confined experience, something especially appreciated by patients who may experience claustrophobia during traditional MRI exams.

“The comfort factor is huge,” says Dr. Rinehouse. “A wider opening means patients can relax more, which in turn helps us get better images. The new Signa system also delivers sharper, faster scans so our patients spend less time in the scanner and we get the highest quality images for diagnosis.”

With its advanced capabilities, the Signa Artist MRI helps physicians diagnose a wide range of conditions, from musculoskeletal injuries to neurological and vascular disorders—with remarkable clarity. It’s technology that helps shorten the path between a symptom and a solution.

GE Logic Ultrasound: Precision in Real Time

The hospital’s new GE Logic Ultrasound system enhances how providers can visualize everything from developing pregnancies to heart and vascular function. Its real-time imaging, high-definition resolution, and adaptable tools mean faster, clearer answers for both patients and providers.

“Our ultrasound team loves this machine,” Dr. Rinehouse says with a smile. “It’s responsive, fast, and produces stunning images that help us make immediate, informed decisions. Whether we’re assessing a patient in the emergency department or following a baby’s growth, we can trust what we see.”

In addition, we are now offering Elastography of the liver which is a test used to check the elasticity of the liver. It can help healthcare providers diagnose liver disease and help stage certain conditions such as liver fibrosis.

A Community Commitment to Quality Care

Each of these new imaging systems represents more than an upgrade, it’s a promise to our community. These investments strengthen North Country Hospital’s ability to provide exceptional care, enhance patient comfort, and ensure that cutting-edge diagnostics are always available locally.

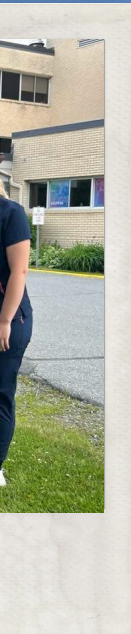

“Every time we add technology like this,” says Dr. Rinehouse, “we’re reminding our community that they don’t have to travel hours away for world-class care. They can get it right here, surrounded by people they know and trust.”

Each year, North Country Hospital continues to strengthen its commitment to exceptional care by welcoming new providers and celebrating the return of those who have long served our community. In 2025, we were proud to expand our medical team with highly skilled physicians, advanced practitioners, and specialists who bring new perspectives, expertise, and energy to our hospital and practices across the Northeast Kingdom. These new additions enhance our ability to meet growing healthcare needs, offer expanded access to services, and ensure that compassionate, high-quality care remains close to home.

Equally meaningful is the return of several valued providers who have chosen to continue their professional journey with North Country Hospital. Their dedication, experience, and deep connection to our patients and community reflect the very heart of who we are, a hospital built on relationships, trust, and a shared mission of caring for one another. Whether newly arrived or returning home, each provider represents the strength and stability of our healthcare family, ensuring that the people of the Northeast Kingdom continue to receive the care they deserve, here yesterday, here today, and here tomorrow.

Expertise Close to Home: Advanced Colorectal Care at North Country Hospital

When it comes to specialized surgical care, access matters. At North Country Hospital, patients don't need to travel far for complex colorectal or abdominal procedures thanks to the expertise of Dr. Matthew Kelley, one of the region's only fellowship-trained colorectal surgeons. His commitment to skillful care, combined with compassion and advanced techniques, is transforming outcomes for patients throughout the Northeast Kingdom and beyond.

Specialized Colorectal Surgery — Right Here in Newport

Diseases of the colon, rectum, and anus can significantly impact a patient's daily life. Dr. Kelley brings a depth of knowledge and state-of-the-art treatment options that help restore comfort, confidence, and health. His specialized colorectal services include:

- Colon and rectal cancer surgery with a focus on preserving function and promoting survivorship
- Anorectal procedures to treat painful conditions such as fistulas, hemorrhoids, and fissures
- Advanced diagnostics and polyp removal, including innovative colonoscopy techniques to prevent cancer
- Complex inflammatory bowel disease care, including surgical treatment for Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis
- Transanal Minimally Invasive Surgery (TAMIS) for precise tumor removal with faster recovery
- Rectal prolapse repair to restore stability and quality of life
- Diverticulitis surgery tailored to each patient's needs
- Innovative treatments for fecal incontinence, helping patients regain control and independence
- Ostomy creation, revision, and parastomal hernia repair
- Care for rare presacral tumors
- Surgical management of pilonidal disease

A Leader in Complex Abdominal Wall Hernia Repair

In addition to his colorectal expertise, Dr. Kelley is recognized for his advanced skills in repairing complex abdominal wall hernias. These hernias often arise after previous surgeries or trauma and can be painful and life-limiting. His innovative surgical approaches help restore abdominal strength, reduce recurrence, and greatly enhance patient comfort and mobility.

Expanded General Surgery Capabilities

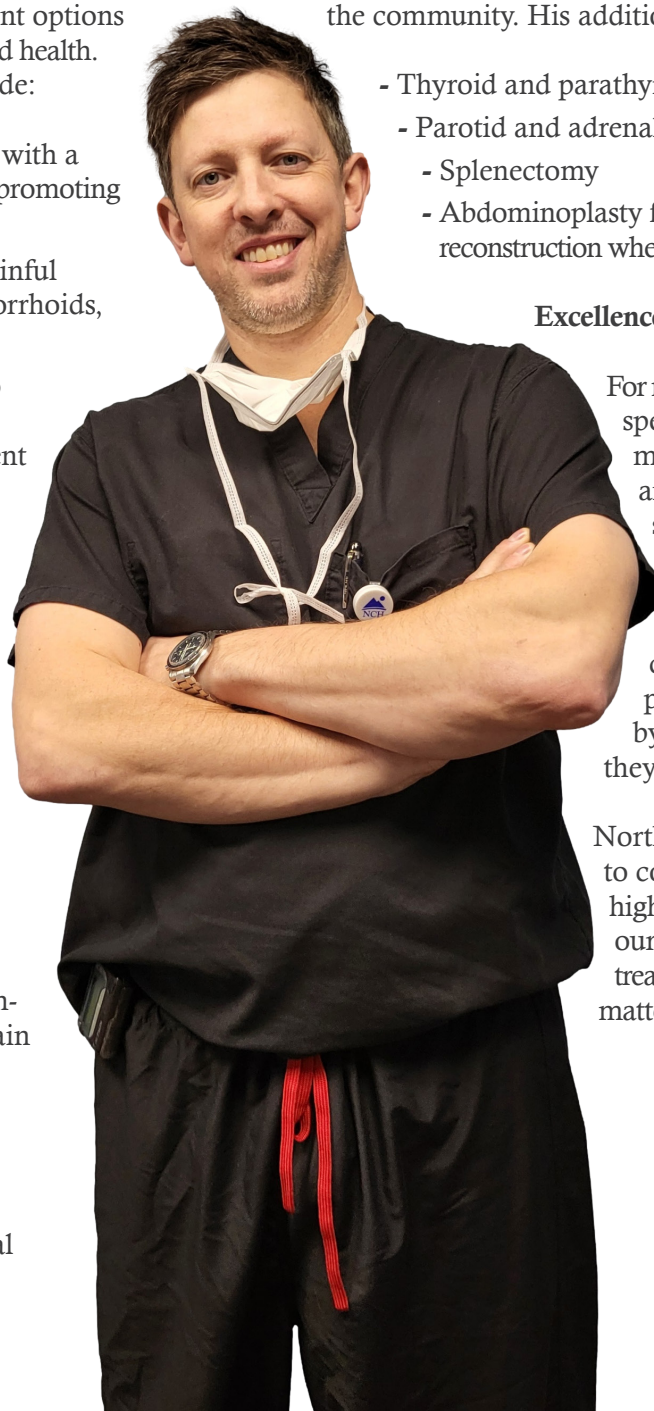

Dr. Kelley also provides an extended range of general surgical procedures, strengthening access to care within the community. His additional expertise includes:

- Thyroid and parathyroid surgery
- Parotid and adrenal gland surgery
- Splenectomy
- Abdominoplasty for functional abdominal wall reconstruction when medically necessary

Excellence, Access, and Compassion

For many in the Northeast Kingdom, specialized surgical care once meant long drives, hotel stays, and separation from family support. Dr. Kelley's arrival has changed that. By offering advanced colorectal and abdominal procedures close to home, he ensures patients can heal surrounded by the comfort and community they know.

North Country Hospital is proud to continue expanding access to highly specialized care, ensuring our patients receive exceptional treatment right here, where it matters most.
